Mr. Edgar E. Hume,
Headquarters The Infantry School,
Fort Benning, Ga.

Dear Sir:

Mr. Henry R. Drowne has written me regarding the duties on medals imported by your school. I am unable to understand why duty should be assessed unless the medals were struck abroad, or unless they are the works of foreign artists. I think Mr Drown's advice to have them struck in bronze, is very sound. If you have the dies for the medals there is no reason why they could not be struck in this country. The Medallie Art Co., New York City, takes care of a great part of the striking of artistic medals in America. If this suggestion proves of any help I shall be very glad.

Very truly yours,

Secretary
